

Register to Attend the Women in Economic Research Conference

April 21 at Williams, 9:30am – 6:15pm

Come join us for a full day of economics-oriented mentoring and networking with students from Williams and other schools, alumnae, and faculty!

Activities will include presentation of research by women economics students, a keynote address by Professor Lisa Cook, a mentoring panel with recent economics alumnae, and other mentoring exercises. Coffee and lunch will be provided.

All Williams students who identify as women or nonbinary are welcome.

Registration is free but required. Sign up at this link: <https://goo.gl/forms/tl7NWlmXA3psB3r93>

Deadline to sign up: Thursday April 19, 2018 midnight

Important! You can only attend if you register, and you are only registered if you sign up and receive a confirmation. If interest exceeds our capacity, we will use a lottery to allocate spots. We will give preference to students who can stay the whole day (though do still sign up if you are interested but can only attend part of the day).

Questions? Email Matthew Gibson at mg17@williams.edu

For more information and the full program, visit <https://sites.google.com/a/williams.edu/wier/>