

Tomáš Dvořák

Department of Economics

Williams College

tel: (413) 597 3143, fax: (413) 597 4045

email: tdvorak@williams.edu

<http://www.williams.edu/Economics/dvorak>

EDUCATION:

- Ph.D. Economics, University of Maryland at College Park, 2000
- M.A. Economics, Central European University, Prague, Czech Republic, 1995
- B.A. Economics, Prague School of Economics, Prague, Czech Republic, 1994

PUBLICATIONS AND PAPERS:

- “Do Domestic Investors Have an Information Advantage? Evidence from Indonesia,” Williams College Working Paper, October 2001.
- “Does Foreign Trading Destabilize Local Stock Markets?,” Williams College Working Paper, April 2001.
- “Asymmetric Information and Gross Capital Flows,” paper presented at the Annual Congress of the European Economic Association, September 2000.
- “Can Gross Capital Flows Help Us to Understand Net Flows?,” paper presented at the Annual Congress of the European Economic Association, September 1999.
- “Are Capital Inflows in the Czech Republic Inflationary?,” Eastern European Economics 35(3), May - June 1997, 35-65.
- “Are Capital Inflows in the Czech Republic Inflationary?,” Prague Economic Papers 5(1), March 1996, 8-27.
- “Je kapitalovy priliv v Ceske Republice inflacni?,” (Czech version of above article), Politicka ekonomie 10(3), August 1996.

WORK EXPERIENCE:

- Assistant Professor, Department of Economics, Williams College, July 2000-present. Develop and teach an undergraduate course on Transition Economics. Teach undergraduate Econometrics and introductory graduate course on Open Economy Macroeconomics.
- Graduate Teaching Assistant, University of Maryland, Fall 1999-Spring 2000. Assisted in teaching a second year graduate course in Econometrics. Responsible for preparing and grading exam questions and problem sets, weekly discussions and occasional lectures.

- Instructor, University of Maryland, Summer 1999. Taught Money and Banking course for third and fourth year university students. The course covered the structure of financial markets and institutions as well as monetary policy.
- Summer Intern, International Monetary Fund, Washington, D.C., Summer 1998. Worked on a project that investigated the effects of taxation on Foreign Direct Investment (FDI). Compiled a panel data set with 11,000 firms from 24 countries. Collected detailed data on FDI. Using detailed industry breakdown detected gross flows of FDI. Wrote a paper documenting firm characteristics and patterns of FDI flows.
- Research Assistant, Bureau of Census Satellite Office at the University of Maryland, July 1997-January 1998. Assisted Professor John Haltiwanger in his research. Wrote SAS programs to analyze data from the Longitudinal Research Database. Created tables and figures used in Haltiwanger's publications.
- Researcher (internship), U.S. Department of Commerce, Commercial Section of the U.S. Embassy, Prague May-July 1995 and June-August 1994. Responsible for the collection and analysis of statistical information used in the 1995 and 1996 issues of the annual Country Commercial Guide for the Czech Republic.

HONORS AND AWARDS:

- Jacob K. Goldhaber Travel Award Recipient, September, 1999 (for participation at the 1999 Annual Congress of the European Economic Association)
- George Soros Economics Fellowship Recipient, Academic Years 1995/1996 - 1998/1999
- Central European University Fellowship Recipient, Academic Year 1994/1995

SOFTWARE SKILLS:

- SAS, Matlab, Stata, Micro TSP, C++, HTML, Unix

LANGUAGE SKILLS:

- Native Czech, fluent English, good Spanish, fair Russian

PERSONAL INFORMATION:

- Citizenship: Czech, U.S. permanent resident