

Emmanuel Holowatz, Class of 2004

My name is Emmanuel Holowatz and I currently work for the Bonneville Power Administration, a part of the United States Department of Energy. As a Budget Analyst in the Finance Department, I work closely with managers of our Corporate Business line to help them track spending, develop over $140,000,000 in annual capital and expense Budgets, and make quarterly and monthly forecasts of end of year spending. My Economics degree from Williams is extremely helpful in my daily work as it helps me maintain a holistic view of very large operations while still being able to dig down and analyze the details. It was not until I studied for my MBA that I realized what an advantage an economics degree from Williams gave me over the narrow focused Business Administration or Finance majors. I am now undergoing management training and am confident my Economics degree will continue to help me as my career progresses.
