

Tseli Mohammed, Class of 2006

Influenced by one of my econ senior seminars, "Economics of HIV/AIDS", I worked for just under 4 years for John Snow, Inc. (JSI) – a leading public health consulting group. In August of 2010 I left to gain a MSc. degree in International Health Policy and Management at the Heller School for Social Policy and Management at Brandeis University. After graduate school, I took a contractor position with the MA Dept of Public Health from Dec 2011 - Sept 2015. Currently, I am working in Quito, Ecuador teaching ESL classes for 2016 and hope to transition back to the international public health arena after this year abroad.
